MNG AIRLINES SELECTS AEI FOR SECOND B737-400SF CONVERSION

MIAMI, FL., --January 25, 2010-- Aeronautical Engineers, Inc. (AEI), is pleased to announce that it has been selected by MNG Airlines to provide a second B737-400SF Passenger to Freighter Conversion. The aircraft, a high gross weight 737-400, MSN 24128 was built in 1989 and will join MNG's growing fleet of freighter aircraft. The P to F conversion and maintenance will be performed at AEI's Authorized Conversion Center, Commercial Jet, Inc. which is located in Miami, Florida. This second aircraft is scheduled for redelivery to MNG Airlines in May, 2010.

Mr. Ahmet Berkmen, Vice Chairman of MNG Airlines stated that "The decision to convert our second 737-400 with AEI was based in large part upon their ability to deliver what they promised on the first contract. Our current conversion project is proceeding ahead of schedule, under budget and is on track for an early delivery".

AEI's B737-400 shall provide MNG Airlines with a Main Deck capable of carrying multiple ULD's including:

- 10ea 88"x125" ULD's or
- 10ea 88"x108" ULD's or
- A mixture of both

AEI is currently in development of an optional 8ea 96"x125" + 1ea 88"x125" longitudinal cargo loading system

This unique flexibility has been designed by AEI to allow the operator to immediately adapt to multiple ULD configurations at a moments notice. When combined with proven reliability, the AEI Converted B737-400SF will allow MNG to keep their aircraft where they belong "In the air, generating revenue".
